President's Message

A CALL TO ACTION

Mary Beganyi, President NvFRW

There is a threat to our sovereignty as a country—when we lose our sovereignty we have lost our country. From May 27 to June 1 the World Health Organization will meet for the 77th World Health Assembly in Geneva, Switzerland. At this meeting they will vote on the Pandemic Accord (Treaty) and the International Health Regulations.

Kristen A. Ullman, president, Eagle Forum is working with the Sovereignty Coalition to get the word out about the stealthy takeover of our nation through WHO treaties. According to Ullman, these two instruments will give the WHO Director-General the sole ability to declare public health emergencies of international concern and to mandate for every nation the global response such as lockdowns, travel restrictions, mandatory testing, vaccinations, and border closures. We will finally lose the freedoms the Biden Administration attempted to take away from us during Covid.

These rights will be snatched from right under our eyes because no one is paying attention. For the US to sign onto any such treaty would be another step in eliminating our sovereignty. The open border is a primary example. According to Ullman, Joe Biden plans to sign onto these treaties without the advice and consent of the Senate. (Art. II, Sec. II) By claiming that the internationally negotiated accords are considered executive agreements, he can do so with an Executive Order.

This is an URGENT CALL TO ACTION to call Senators Catherine Cortez Masto at 202-224-3121 and Jacky Rosen at 202-224-6244. Tell them they must reassert their constitutional authority to prevent the signing of the Pandemic Accord (Treaty) and the International Health Regulations that will sacrifice our national sovereignty and our freedoms.

This must be done by May 27, 2024.

Welcome from the New President

Dear New and Returning Members,

A warm welcome to you. I am so happy you decided to join with like-minded women to help save our country. Hopefully, you will enjoy your club experience and become immersed in its many activities. The sooner you become involved, the more fun you will have as you make new friends.

When you joined your local club, you also became a member of the Nevada Federation of Republican Women and the National Federation of Republican Women. It is a great time to be a Republican and involved in politics. There's so much to do in the time remaining before our most important election from the President of the United States all the way down the ballot.

My advice as someone who has knocked on doors, made phone calls, written postcards, and addressed envelopes is to find a comfortable pair of walking shoes, a great pair of shades, and a fun sun hat or visor. You will now be prepared to work for the candidate of your choice and most definitely ready to join the STRIKE FORCE. Your club president and STRIKE FORCE coordinator can tell you more. I am looking forward to meeting you soon.

Have Faith, Be Courageous, and Stay Engaged.

Mary Beganyi, President, NvFRW

PRESIDENT MARY BEGANI'S MESSAGE

It is also imperative to contact our governor, state legislature and local governing bodies to ensure they enact legislation to protect our 10th Amendment Rights. Louisiana, Alabama, and Tennessee have legislation in progress.

STRIKE FORCE

Caroline Smith, NFRW Campaign and Elections Committee Member, Nevada State Coordinator

The "Strike Force" is a nationwide program hosted by the NFRW. Nevada is one of the target states the NFRW is focusing on. Our goal is to win Nevada. We can achieve it with your help by mobilizing the masses, not just a few. To date, we're discussing with the GOP, Turning Point Action, and Trump's Campaign to join us. I'll provide more detailed information as I receive it.

I am honored to serve as a member of the NFRW Campaign and Elections Committee and as the Nevada State Coordinator. In this capacity, I'll work closely with our NvFRW State President, Mary Beganyi, to organize the 2024 Summer Strike Force.

Here is the most recent Update from our NFRW Campaign and Elections Committee.

The battle lines have been drawn. As the NFRW gears up for the crucial 2024 elections, it's time to rally our forces. While I know many of you are already deeply involved, we must collectively step up during a specific period this summer.

Every NvFRW and NFRW member MUST contribute to GET OUT THE VOTE (GOTV):

In Defense of Donald Trump

By President Mary Beganyi

We need to get Donald Trump elected as the 47th President of this country. Our country is suffering through difficult times—times that try men's souls. We have political prisoners from January 6 being held in jails and receiving cruel and unusual punishment in violation of their rights. Why? Because they believed in our Constitution. We have an invasion on the border, diminishing our citizens while these invaders are given preference over us. Our sovereignty is lost through our open borders, and it is about to be given away to the World Health Organization through the signing of the proposed Pandemic Treaty by Joe Biden without the advice and consent of the Senate. This is an actual violation of our constitutional process and surrenders our status as a sovereign nation.

I am beginning to believe that the relationship of our citizens today to the globalists is the same as the revolutionaries of 1776 to King George, III. Many of us are fed up and are striving today to find a leader with the same vision of America as our founding fathers did, one of American greatness. We struggle in this culture war to determine what kind of nation America will become. Will we remain an example to the world of the great experiment in American democracy through the Constitutional Republic, or will we embrace the Marxist form of government being cast upon us? Today, we need a leader capable of emulating George Washington. We need a leader who has the capacity, like Washington, to appeal to heaven.

Trump believes in the power of prayer, as he once stated while visiting a Hope for Prisoner graduation ceremony in Las Vegas. Our country was founded on prayer, our communities are sustained by prayer, and our nation will be renewed by hard work, a lot of intelligence, and prayer. Perhaps this is why Republicans, predominantly Christian conservatives, rally around Trump as he goes through the trials and tribulations put on him through the 'lawfare' of this administration, much like the repressive laws (Intolerable Acts) cast upon the colonies.

We need all the tools we can carry to respond to those who denigrate Trump as a man and a candidate. Our response has to focus beyond his accomplishments during his presidency. Dislike of Trump is visceral and emotional; racism and elitism are two such attacks lacking logic and truth. Therefore, we need to advocate for Trump from this standpoint.

Another tool to place in your toolbox in defense of Donald Trump is criminal justice reform, or the First Step Act (a program designed to recalculate prison time served based on good behavior and the type of crimes committed). The criminal justice system's reform, the First Step Act, may appeal to the left's visceral and emotional attack. Redemption and conversion are two such passionate issues. One of its goals is to reduce the disproportionate number of African American and lower-income inmates in our prisons, many of whom were incarcerated under the federal anti-drug laws from 30 years ago. Courts doled sentences out too harshly for the crimes committed by first-time offenders. We need to emphasize that the signing and funding of this bill is a perfect example that Donald J. Trump is not a racist or elitist, as he worked to ensure the success and betterment of all Americans.

1. Volunteer for Strike Force to Knock on Doors
2. Make Phone Calls
3. Conduct Voter Registration Drives in Republican-Friendly areas
4. Chase Absentee/Mail-in Ballots
5. Poll Watchers/Clerks/Managers

Please enlist in the NFRW Army—we're in this together for victory! Let's keep our eyes on the prize: winning up and down the ballot on November 5, 2024. NFRW has set May 31, 2024, as the deadline for Nevada to collectively recruit at least 100 statewide volunteers for the Nevada Strike Force. Having each club president submit a minimum of 10 volunteers, we would easily exceed our goal of 100. When these lists have been compiled, please send them to both Mary and me in one consolidated submission.

Thank you for your unwavering commitment. Let's make history!

NFRW Spring 2024 Board Meeting & Legislative Day

The National Federation Republican Women Board Meeting was held on March 14-16, 2024. March 14 was designated Legislative Day. After a short bus ride from our hotel, we arrived at the Capitol. It was a short walk to the Senate Visitor Center, where we received badges and were cleared through security.

Once inside, we enjoyed a Continental breakfast followed by a presentation on lobbying, both of which were provided by the Leadership Institute. It was during this timeframe that Senators popped in to greet us, thank us for the work we do for the Republican cause, and encouraged us to keep the faith.

Senator Tim Scott was to be our first speaker, but was unable to make it as he was called back to South Carolina. In his place, he sent his entire staff in carrying dozens of long-stemmed red roses, one for each of us. The spokesperson assured us that Senator Scott valued the Republican women's clubs across the nation. Other speakers included Senator Ted Budd (TX), Senator Cynthia Lummis (WY), and Senator Cindy Hyde-Smith (MS).

After taking a group photo, we moved from the Visitor Center to a Senate caucus room in the Russell Building via the Capitol subway. Here, we enjoyed box lunches while listening to our keynote speaker, Senator Katie Britt (AL).

The rest of the afternoon was spent in the senate building, where our task was to visit our senators and lobby them on the need to fix our border, the issue of parental rights, and the economy. The offices of Nevada's two senators were a healthy walk to the Hart Senate building. I chose to spend my limited time in the Russell building, where I visited the offices of Senators Capito (WV), Josh Hawley (MO), and Cynthia Lummis (WY).

At the conclusion of Legislative Day activities, those of us who were Regents walked from the Capitol to the Republican National Committee headquarters in the Eisenhower Building for a brief reception. (See Regent's Report).

The following two days were very intense with meetings. Friday was the presidents meeting focusing on the Empowering 70K membership drive and the March Madness competition. It was here that we heard about the disrupters attempting to tear apart successful clubs and state federations for various reasons. We learned about the strike forces planned for battleground states. Nevada being one, I am waiting to hear more about that.

The Achievement and Campaign awards were addressed—look for 2024 forms around June and continue to use 2023 as a template, as no major changes are expected. I stopped in to listen to a standing committee meeting on Homeland Security that was of interest to me.

After lunch on Friday, the Board of Directors Meeting went into recess about 5 p.m. It was called out of recess Saturday morning and concluded on schedule on Saturday afternoon.

Our Region 2 meeting was held on Friday. We combined our meeting with dinner. It was nice to finally meet the Zoom voices in person. The discussion focused on club membership and the Region 2 meeting being planned for January 2025 at the Reagan Library. This was a pleasant way to get to know the ladies we will be working with.

I was impressed with how efficiently and organized the meetings were run. They gave me positive insight into the inner workings of the national organization and the importance of all eyes on the same prize: achieving our goal of regaining Republican control of our government under the leadership of America First, Donald J. Trump.

TIPS ON PERSUASIVE SPEAKING

Missy Day's tips on persuasive speaking were referenced in the Report on the Leadership Conferences. She distributed them at the Southern Leadership Conference.

1. Know your audience: Understand your audience's demographics, interests, and concerns so you can tailor your message to resonate with them.
2. Start with a strong opening: To grab your audience's attention from the start, begin with a compelling story, a shocking statistic, a thought-provoking question, or a powerful quote.
3. Clearly state your position: Be clear and concise about your main argument or position. Your audience should understand your stance from the beginning.
4. Provide evidence: Use facts, statistics, expert opinions, and real-life examples to support your argument. This will add credibility to your speech and help persuade your audience.
5. Address counterarguments: Acknowledge potential objections or counterarguments and provide reasons why your position is stronger. Anticipating and addressing opposing viewpoints shows that you've considered multiple perspectives.
6. Use persuasive language: Employ rhetorical devices such as repetition, parallelism, and emotional language to make your speech more compelling and memorable.
7. Maintain a confident posture: Stand tall, make eye contact, and use open body language to convey confidence and authority.
8. Engage the audience: Encourage audience participation through rhetorical questions, interactive activities, or by using relatable anecdotes.
9. Appeal to emotions: Use storytelling and vivid language to evoke emotions that support your argument. People are often swayed by emotions, so connecting with them on an emotional level can be very persuasive.
10. End with a strong conclusion: Summarize your main points, restate your position, and leave the audience with a memorable closing statement that reinforces your message.

Sierra Nevada Republican Women

April was an eventful month. We had Douglas County's two Republican Candidates for Justice of the Peace give us information about what the job entails and why each would be the best person for the job. We also had a wonderful ceremony for our Entrepreneur of the Year Award. Our Chairwoman was Jann Fagnoli, (she is also our Recording Secretary). Jann organized it and brought in several previous winners to share in the event. The Republican women business owners were all amazing. The winner was Pam Horton, a true inspiration.

She started as a permanent makeup technician and, through her hard work and dedication, now owns Millennium Medical & Spa Suites in Minden. Her success story is a testament to the potential within all of us. We are honored to have her as a sister Republican.

One of our new members, Sheryl Lemke, suggested the idea of starting a walking group. We brought it up to our membership and quite a few people were interested. Since Sheryl often travels for work, Board Member Anita Kornoff, will be a second contact person to help organize it. We hope to get groups of Republican women, and their friends who may join to spend time together on easy walks with a picnic or some snacks at the end. We want to emphasize that this group is for everyone, regardless of their walking ability. Those that can't walk can still wait and visit with the others. We hope it develops camaraderie and the sharing of ideas.

Our VP of Membership, Anita Kornoff, will host an afternoon tea for our new members in June. It is a leadership event, along with a meet and greet for new members. She has invited five past presidents, and it looks like it will be lots of fun. I will keep you informed on how our events unfold.

News from Across the Silver State

By Maureen Karas, President

The Douglas County Republican Women (DCRW), hosted a "Disaster Preparedness Event" on April 20, 2024, at Valley Christian Fellowship. Over 100 county residents showed up to learn how to prepare for emergencies.

The Douglas County Sheriff's Office (DCSO) Explorer Post 2105 Honor Guard's presented the Colors. Two DCSO K-9 handlers brought in their K-9s, Bubba, a male black and tan German Shepard Cross, and Lagatha, a yellow female Labrador Retriever. The crowd went wild over the well-trained, beautiful K-9s. The first of the three keynote speakers, Sheriff Coverley, a native-born Nevadan, spoke about Douglas County having plans for the inevitable natural disasters, such as fires and floods. He assured the audience that he and his deputies were always on call to our community. If you call the DCSO, you will have a deputy at your door or the accident scene ready to assist.

Douglas County's Emergency Manager, Kara Easton, is also a native Nevadan. She spent most of her life in Las Vegas, where she graduated with her Executive Master's in Crisis and Emergency Management. Kara came to Douglas County and hit the ground running in her current position in 2023, right after the Atmospheric River incident. She is the go-to person who oversees the emergency management program, the emergency communication center, and the telecommunications and radio division.

The final speaker, Jim Williams, has worked to organize and coordinate neighborhoods against the threat of emergencies and disasters since 2011. He has been recognized by fire districts and law enforcement offices for his efforts. He founded a Neighborhood Watch program, which now has more than a thousand volunteer participants. He is also a key to Train the Trainer in Neighborhood Emergency Preparedness.

The DCRW extends its heartfelt gratitude to the businesses that played a pivotal role in the success of the event. The Chocolate Shoppe, Max's Pet Shop, Nailology, Candlelight & Roses, Nyona's Hair & Nails, Dancing Deer in Genoa, Justice of the Peace Candidate Laurie Trotter, and Millennium Medical & Spa Suites, your contributions were invaluable and greatly appreciated.

The DCRW meets on the first Wednesday of every month at VCF, 1681 Lucerne St., Minden. For more information about the organization, please email dcrwnv@gmail.com.

By Jennifer Tuggle,
Boulder City Republican Women

The month of May and the beginning of summer is upon us.

Our BCRW members are working diligently throughout the summer months campaigning for Republican Candidates and are involved in many events.

On the first Wednesday of each month, BCRW members meet for lunch in downtown Boulder City, NV, lining the sidewalk with a wave of red attire. Every lunch always results in people walking in downtown Boulder City stopping to talk with our Members, which allows an opportunity to promote the Boulder City Republican Women's Club.

On May 23 and 24, 2024, the BCRW will have a booth at the Boulder City annual Best Dam Barbecue Cook-off event. The BCRW booth will provide information on the NV Voter ID Initiative petition to obtain signatures, including a ballot question on the Nevada General Election ballot to strengthen Nevada Voter Laws and register new Nevada Voters.

Rebecca Collett, Hedy Petroselli

candidate's brochures to increase voter information on General Election candidates to make an informed decision on who to vote for.

The BCRW will participate in the annual Boulder City 4th of July Damboree Parade. The BCRW has participated in this patriotic event for the last four years.

Meet & Greet events for Republican Candidates will continue throughout the summer, and BCRW Members are making commitments to become poll workers, field registrars, and volunteers for the NFRW Strike Force program.

As BCRW President and NVFRW 1st Vice President, I continue supporting Republican Candidates by attending political events throughout Clark County representing the BCRW.

The primary goal of the BCRW in 2024 is to ensure that every registered Republican in Clark County votes in both the primary and general elections.

How Ranked Choice Voting Works

Submitted by, Pam Pierson, Legislative Chair of the Spring Mountain Republican Women

1. Voters rank the top five candidates according to their preference rather than just the one they think will do the best.
2. If no candidate gets a majority of votes, the candidate with the fewest votes is eliminated, and the votes that were cast for that person are distributed to the remaining candidates.
3. If this new rank results in a majority, the election is over, and a victor is declared.
4. If a majority still needs to be achieved after the first round of redistribution, the process repeats itself by eliminating the next bottom-vote getter as needed until someone receives a majority. If you make a mistake, such as giving the same rank to two candidates, the initiative calls your ballot “inactive” or an “overvote,” and it may be tossed out altogether.

It's so confusing. Just Vote NO on RCV!

[I need to add that if you do not rank all candidates, the ballot is considered exhausted (inactive) and thrown out.]

Can't reach them by phone?

Many of us use this technique to talk with a Congressman or Senator. I watch for their endorsement of a candidate and make sure I RSVP to any event where they will be present. These events are usually free as they are generally not fundraisers. This way, I can say a few words to them. It is beneficial if you introduce yourself as a donor to him and show him your record.

REGENT REPORT

At the conclusion of Legislative Day activities, those of us who were Regents walked from the Capitol to the Republican National Committee headquarters in the Eisenhower Building for a brief reception.

We enjoyed light hors d'oeuvres while sipping on soda or water and mingling. Joseph Wood, Republican Party Chair from Arkansas, spoke to us, as did the new RNC chair, Michael Watley. Joseph Wood shared his remarkable life story of being abandoned as an infant to becoming a judge and leader in the Republican Party in his home state of Arkansas. New to his assignment, Michael Whatley recognized the importance of the National Federation of Republican Women to the Republican Party, reinforcing our value and power in the political arena.

As I was reflecting on the events of my day later that evening, what struck me most was the controversy we have in Nevada as to where the $1,000 donation to the NFRW for Nevada to become a National Regent should be accounted for in the NvFRW budget. Is it a president expense line item?

Does it belong in the Nevada Regents budget, and where was it paid from for so many years? What does Nevada get for that thousand dollars? Here is the answer. The state president is invited to a small reception. Her name represents Nevada and she is placed in a program. She can sit at tables designated for the Regents during the lunch meeting. These tables were a tad bit closer to the front than non-regent tables. The important thing is the NFRW has additional dollars to meet its expenses.

Right now we have fourteen (14) of the seventeen (17) Standing Committees on the way to formation. I say on the way to formation because one person does not a committee make. They need your help. Don't be afraid to reach out to them and find how you can become involved. They will also be on the lookout for capable committee members. Leadership Conferences 2024

By Mary Beganyi

The NvFRW Regents sponsored the Nevada Federation of Republican Women Leadership Conferences. Two Leadership Conferences are held each year as per our bylaws. One was held in late January in Minden, Nevada, and the other in early February in Las Vegas. The meetings are structured around the same agenda. We focused on the National Federation and what it provides to our club members. We addressed the NvFRW and what it gives to our club members.

We held a breakout session to allow attendees to learn about the positions they hold in their clubs. Finally, we had a skill-building session on how to use persuasive speaking tactics when speaking to non-Republicans or those suffering from TDS (Trump Derangement Syndrome).

Mendy Elliot, a lobbyist, political strategist, and member of Mt. Rose RW, spoke to those attending the Northern Conference. She spoke of the importance of gaining the Independent's vote and distributed data on why they are important.

Missy Day, an Executive Coach, Public Speaker, and President of RWLV, provided the Southern Conference with information on finding common ground with someone with strong opposing opinions. Both speakers reinforced that it is possible to find a starting point for a conversation based on events in everyday life and universal emotions.

NvFRW Spring Board and General Membership Meeting

Our Spring Meeting was held in Las Vegas at the Suncoast Hotel and Casino the weekend of April 12 and 13. The Executive Committee meeting was held on Friday, followed by the Regent's meeting and reception.

Saturday morning started with the President's Roundtable. The presidents shared successful events, upcoming events, and tips on growing their clubs. The meeting was called to order at 9 a.m. After establishing a quorum, the Executive Committee and Presidents approved the Standing Committee Chairs. Executive Committee reports and Standing Committee reports were given. Our Parliamentarian Erica Zajac kept us on task following the Parliamentarian Procedure.

The 2022 Audit Report was presented, and Four Resolutions were passed. Three resolutions passed unanimously. The Resolutions In Support of Voter ID, Opposing Ranked Choice Voting, and Opposing Open Primaries passed unanimously as presented. The Lands Bill, Opposing Transfer of State-Controlled Public Land to the Federal government was approved unanimously after discussion and modification.

Senate Minority Leader Dr. Robin Titus addressed the body. Her message centered on winning key seats in the NV Senate and Assembly to preserve Governor Lombardo's vetoes. She focused on electability in certain races.

Following Dr. Titus, we heard from the Chair of the Nevada Commission for Women, Tina Brown, and Destiny McDonal. The message from Tina and Destiny was to get involved in government by pursuing a position on one of the many government boards in a way that ensures conservative voices on government policies.

At the Regents Reception, candidates or their representatives were given an opportunity to speak. The Regents and NvFRW appreciated their support. They were informed that we could only endorse candidates after the Primary.
